

IN THE NEWS THIS WEEK:

New workshops for the month of May.

If you love pansies, you're going to love that this week all of our pansies are 25% off.

May 2nd E-NEWS

Ridiculous but true! I couldn't believe it when I heard about it but it's actually 'World Naked Gardening Day' today. Enough said.

From the ridiculous to the sublime - the 14 day weather forecast promises no more frosty nights and that means that gardening season has officially begun. It also means that it's time for me to order in more of the tender bedding plants like tomatoes, peppers, melons and zinnias. It's such an exciting time of year - so much to do and not nearly enough time to do it all. A case in point is that I've been trying to send out this newsletter for several days but there have been too many other demands on my time. That said, I do want to let you know about the workshops we have on offer in May. So I apologize that this newsletter is short on 'news' and tips but do take a look at the workshop line-up and sign up ASAP for any that interest you. With next weekend being Mothers' Day, I'll be sure to get out a great newsletter then

HANNA'S MAY WORKSHOPS 2015

MAGIC IN THE AIR

Wed. May 6th – 2:00-3:00pm, or
Wed. May 6th – 5:00-6:00pm

Have you ever wanted to try your hand at making one of the big moss baskets but weren't sure how to start. Come to one of these workshops and make your own using a 16" wire basket, moss and an assortment of sun-loving, fast-spreading flowers. Workshop includes all supplies.

BASKET OF BERRIES

Sat. May 9 – 2:00 -3:00pm

We'll use bare-root strawberries so the basket won't look like much at first but it won't be long before these everbearing beauties are providing delicious snacks and dessert. And you'll love that you can plant them in the ground in the fall to make a strawberry patch for years to come. Supplies included.

HIGH FLYING SALAD

Wed. May 13, 2-3pm

Plant up a hanging basket with a selection of salad greens and some herbs, hang it a spot within easy access to the kitchen, and you'll have fresh salads for weeks this summer. And it even looks pretty so you'll be the envy of the neighbourhood!

AN ORGANIC APPROACH TO VEGGIE GARDENING

Sat. May 16, 2-3pm

Grow a garden and the bugs will come to dine. Learn organic and environment-friendly ways to deal with them. (While this session is FREE we recommend that you register because we have limited seating)

SUCCULENT - DRIFTWOOD WREATH

Wed. May 20, 2-3pm.

When I saw a picture of this wreath I just knew I wanted one – a perfect opportunity to have a workshop. All supplies are included with some very cool tropical succulents that will make this wreath a great indoor accent when the weather turns cold.

MINIATURE GARDEN

Sat. May 23, 2-3pm

Creating a fairy garden is a wonderful way to introduce children to gardening. Bring a child and show him/her how much fun it can be to make something together. Workshop includes pot, plants, coloured pebbles and a fairy, of course. (Other accessories are available to purchase.)

INFORMAL, INFORMATIVE AND FUN!

EASY PEASY AIR PLANTS

Wed. May 27, 2-3pm

Modern, easy care....air plants take very little maintenance and live happily in bright, indirect light anywhere in your home. We haven't had an air plant workshop for a while but you've been asking for it – so here it is. Supplies included.

HYPERTUFA HANDS

Sat. May 30, 2-3pm

This is another project that we've been wanting to do & another perfect opportunity for a workshop. This promises to be a messy project so come prepared with a pair of rubber gloves to wear and we'll supply the pair that will serve as the molds. (Includes a coupon for hardy succulents to plant after 'hands' have cured.)
